MACOMB COUNTY LIBRARY TO OFFER COMPUTER CLASSES

MOUNT CLEMENS, Mich. – The Macomb County Library offers free classes on the basics of computer and Internet use. Two classes will be offered this September, covering everything from keyboard and mouse use to searching online databases.

The classes include:

- Introduction to the personal computer: Participants learn about the components of a computer or Web appliance system, how to buy a computer or Web device, how to use a mouse and a keyboard, how to select an Internet service provider and more. The class runs 2-2:30 p.m. Tuesday, Sept. 20.
- Introduction to the Internet: Participants learn how to visit the Detroit Free Press, The Detroit News and Macomb Daily Web sites, and how to use search engines such as Yahoo, Alta Vista and Google. The classes will run from 10-11:30 a.m., Saturday Sept. 17, and from 7-8:30 p.m., Tuesday, Sept. 20.

The classes, held at the library, are open to the general public. Registration is required. For more information or to register, call 586-286-6660 and ask for the Information Technology Division.

About Macomb County

Macomb County is an enriching community in Southeastern Michigan that has one of the state's fastest rates of growth. Its 825,000 residents make it Michigan's third-largest county, with direct access to Lake St. Clair and Anchor Bay, and a host of cultural and entertainment options. Its highly skilled workforce and investment in new and expanding businesses make it open to enterprise. Active civic leadership translates into balanced budgets and Michigan's second-lowest tax rate. An increasingly diverse population and high quality of life make Macomb County accessible to all.
